

A STUDY ON STEEL INDUSTRIES IN INDIA

S.PRAMILA¹, K.KUMAR², & ANUPAM KARMAKAR³

¹Assistant Professor, Department of Business Administration, B.P. Poddar
Institute of Management & Technology Kolkata (W.B) India

²Advisor, & Associate Professor, Department, of Commerce,
National College, Tiruchirappalli, Tamil Nadu India

³Assistant Professor in Commerce New Alipore College, University of Calcutta,
L Block, New Alipore, Kolkata West Bengal, India

ABSTRACT

The steel sector is one of the most significant and pivotal sectors in the prominence and growth of a nation. It has been considered as the spine of civilization in the universe. The level of per capita consumption of steel is an important determinant of the socio-economic growth of a nation. This research Study focuses growth and development of Steel industries in India. The Steel industry in India is growing in a rapid speed with demand increment and opportunity creation and attraction to the international players.

KEYWORDS: Steel Sector, Indian Steel Industry, Flat Products, Long Products, Socio-Economic Growth